

Health, wellbeing and family all move up the priority list for those working abroad post-COVID

Research carried out among 1,300 people in:

Allianz Care partnered with Ipsos MRBI to explore the impact of COVID-19 on people living and working abroad, and the overall impact of this lifestyle on their health and wellbeing and that of their families.

COVID-19 has impacted the future plans of 62% of expats

59%

Financially impacted

53%

Health and wellbeing now greater priority

48%

Family now greater priority

Key influences in deciding whether to stay abroad or move home

Health and wellbeing

74%

Access to quality health and wellbeing facilities/services

75%

Work/life balance

70%

Family life abroad

Living abroad with partner

71%

Living abroad with children

51%

Became a parent abroad

51%

Positive impact on family's health and wellbeing

65%

Challenges

47%

Distance from family & friends

39%

Climate

33%

Cultural differences